TUESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1867.

LOUISVILLE AS THE PLACE OF THE DEMO-CRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION.—In another column of this morning's Journal, we presented a very strong letter from the Hon.
H. W. Harrington, of Indiana, in favor of Louisville as the place of the Democratic National Convention next year.

Mr. Harrington, in his letter, gives some excellent reasons for his choice of our city; and, as he is a member of the convention, he will have an opportunity to present his views with effect. This opportunity, we are sure, he will zealously embrace.
What says the public?

THE LOW PRICES OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, it will be seen from our report, promptly organized yesterday, electing Judge Bunch, of this city, Speaker. The choice is a happy one. Judge Bunch, in addition to his ability and experience as a legislator, is a possessing officer of the first rank. His election is a fitting tribute to his merits as well as a handsome compliment to our city.

The Senate no doubt will organize today in time for the delivery of the Governor's message, which, in this event, we will lay before our readers to-morrow.

The spirit of harmony we rejoice to hear, prevailing among the members.

P. S. A special despatch from Frankfort, which will be found on another page, informs us that the Senate organized last night. The Legislature accordingly is now in working order. Mr. Johnson, of Nelson, is the Speaker of the Senate. He is a most capable and worthy man.

None of the results anticipated by many good men, but timid people, in a measure, have been realized.
The Committee recommend the impeachment of the President, have yet unorganized. There has been too great opposition to the impeachment of the President. It is possible, however, that the Committee will recommend the impeachment of the President. It is possible, however, that the Committee will recommend the impeachment of the President.

GENERAL NEWS.

A very serious affair seems to have recently occurred at Quinlan, Ga. The following is the substance of it as given by the Savannah Republican: "We learn that there were some difficulties about the crops on the plantation at Quinlan; that there was a fight between a man named Smith and a man named Jones, who was a resident of that place. Another man, whose name we could not learn, was also killed. A request was sent to the military headquarters in this city for troops to quell the disturbance. The dispatch contained no particulars. A great and riotous mob was immediately sent down, and by dispatches received at headquarters, we learn that they have arrested a number of persons concerned in the affair, who they will bring to this city."

We see, every few days, some new demonstration of the assertion that although our national debt is very large in figures, it is not nearly so very large in fact. This result is usually reached by elaborate computations of the population of the country will be some twenty or thirty years hence, and of the amount of debt which will thus be paid to each individual. All this is probably true, and undoubtedly useful; but we observe that it does not help any one to pay his taxes. The burden of the debt is not really upon the country as a whole, but upon the individual citizen, who is taxed to pay it. The country is not a person, and it cannot be taxed. The individual citizen is a person, and he must pay his taxes. The country is not a person, and it cannot be taxed. The individual citizen is a person, and he must pay his taxes.

The report of Gen. Grant mentions the remarkable fact that during the past year no fewer than 13,000 men have deserted from the army. The general mentions the fact that the desertions were not confined to the Plains, where it is well known that men often enlist in westward-bound regiments for the express purpose of getting away from the army.
